INVITATION

Dear Colleagues,

The Korean Association of Slavic Studies (KASS) cordially invites you to the 6th East Asian Conference on Slavic Eurasian Studies (EACSES) to be held in Seoul. And the KASS especially welcomes all of international scholars attending this conference.

Since the end of the Cold War, countries in the Eurasian continent have undergone profound transformations. We have witnessed such changes taking place in two different directions. On the one hand, the Eurasian continent in general and East Asia in particular have been the place where major powers are involved in confrontations and rivalry for the purpose of maximization of their own interests. On the other hand, however, countries in Eurasia and East Asia have been making joint efforts to cooperate in security issues and to promote economic and cultural cooperation for a peaceful and prosperous Eurasia.

Lately, tangible movements toward a cooperative and harmonious Eurasia are already within the horizon; the Republic of Korea embarked on ‘Eurasia Initiative,’ while Russia and China proclaimed “Pivot to Eurasia” and “New Silk Road Project” respectively.

At such a critical juncture, the KASS is honored to host the 6th EACSES dealing with the theme of “Peace Building in East Asia & the Expansion of Eurasian Cooperation: Dynamics and Tasks.” This conference is expected to be an arena in which creative and constructive ideas are exchanged to make Eurasia a better and more attractive place to live in than ever before. We hope that with your participation this conference will be a meaningful and valuable occasion of academic festivity.

June 2014

DUCKJOON CHANG

President,
Korean Association of Slavic Studies
